

Current advice for clinically extremely vulnerable \(CEV\) people includes advice about education settings and is on the government's website.

Families of CEV children are advised to speak to their GP or specialist clinician, if they have not already done so. There is a very low risk of children becoming very unwell from COVID-19, even for children with existing health conditions. Most children originally identified as CEV no longer need to follow advice to CEV people.

Tips for parents with children at school, and advice on when to keep a child at home are on the Council's website.

Advice for attending school and children's activities during the current national restrictions is on the government's website.