

The Missing Sandwiches by Lola

On the first day of the Easter holidays Coco and Snowy decided to go to the forest by the river to celebrate Coco's birthday. They were having a picnic. It was really sunny !!! The birds were singing beautifully. They found a nice open spot to their put down their blanket and sat down by the fresh river. Coco was happy as a monkey because he had his sizzling sausage sandwich on soft white bread and snowy brought some crunchy carrots. Coco the dog and snowy the rabbit decided to have a dip because the water looked so fresh. Coco took off his collar because he didn't want it to get wet.

Coco was a Labrador who loved swimming. When Coco and Snowy got in squirrels were climbing the trees. They were looking at the birds tooting in the air, the were so beautiful. They stayed there and watched the sun set go down. Suddenly, when Coco got out of the river he couldn't believe his eyes! His sizzling sausage sandwiches were all gone!!! What a bad birthday this was! He looked everywhere.

He said, "Where could they be?"

"Don't worry!" said Snowy, "I'm sure we'll find it somewhere!"

Snowy gave Coco a carrot. "I'm ok Snowy, but thanks anyway," said Snowy.

"Ok," said Snowy, "I guess I'll have the rest! Gobble Gobble Gobble. Yummy that was so good." "I wish I could have my sizzling sausage sandwich" said Coco.

Suddenly, Coco and Snowy heard a noise and saw little footprints and crumbs. They followed them to a tall bumpy and crinkly tree. The foot prints were all over the tree and there was a strong smell of sausages!

At that moment, they noticed a hole at the top of the tree and then a furry head popped out of it! It was a squirrel!

"Oi! Give me back my sizzling sausage sandwiches!" said Coco.

"Only if you find me four acorns in the forest." Said the squirrels. So Coco and Snowy set off to find four acorns, and they did!

"Here you go" said Coco, "Now give me back my sizzling sausage sandwiches." Unfortunately, the naughty squirrel threw down the sandwiches on the dusty and dirty floor!! Coco was so sad when they walked home. Thankfully, Snowy spotted an ice cream van and thought that might cheer Coco up. So they got a big ice cream and Coco got bubblegum with sprinkles on the top. He even got some chopped up sausages on the top too. He finished off the day as happy as a monkey!
