

Coco and the Magical Crystal Cave.

By Violet

In an emerald glittering green field, the birds were tweeting and there was a small brown fluffy bunny named Coco. The green grass was swaying around her furry paws. The fresh air was swirling around the sky. The colourful rainbow was stretching across to the bright shining sun. As the ruby red poppies started to bloom, Coco went into a dark cave and she saw a fox, the fox wanted to eat Coco. Coco tried to get out but the cave stones had blocked the door. Coco felt like she was going to die and felt really scared so she decided to be a brave bunny.

Coco ran out of one not blocked bit and the door nearly got blocked and Coco got out just in time and the fox was stuck in the cave. Coco soon got extremely rich because the bunny villagers gave her shiny gold money because they were very happy that she got rid of very dangerous Sharon the fox. She had got ribbons neatly tied around her ears with a huge puffy rose gold ball gown plus she had graceful black mascara on her long pretty eyelashes with her cute kind smile. But what she longed for the most was a pair of glimmering crystal earrings.

One day she woke up from her pink metallic four poster bed and decided to set off on a journey to find the majestic magical crystal cave. She picked up her big circle shaped flower bag and highly hopped out of the door. Coco was now in a meadow of standing out daisies, daffodils and ruby red poppies. She heard a rustling noise coming from juicy green bushes. "Who is there!" Coco cried and scaredly hopped backwards and out from behind the emerald green bushes came an amethyst coloured bunny named Violet. Her silky fur blew in the gentle breeze. "Who are you", asked Coco. "I am Violet" replied the bunny.

“How did you get here?” wondered curious Coco. “I’m just picking poppies.”
“Well, why don’t you join me?” answered Coco. “I’m on a journey to find the magical crystal cave, to find a pair of majestic crystal earrings.” Violet thought about it for a second before she replied, “I would adore a pair of ruby earrings.” So the two of them set off in hope to find the extrordenery amazing crystal cave! Then they found one single violet flower in the whole meadow. Coco smiled.

Later on in the day, Violet and Coco came across a ocean blue, glimmering and flowing waterfall that had clear white bubbly foam floating around at the bottom of the flowing waterfall, and the bright shining sun reflected on the glimmering waterfall. With green lily pads and lily flowers sprouting. “Ahh! Finally we found the magical crystal cave!” yelled Coco. In front of her there was a beautiful rocky cave, it was the magical crystal cave! From inside of the cave out hopped a gleaming yellow bunny named Amber. Her gentle paws reached up to stroke her soft velvety fur. “What’s your name”, asked Violet. “Amber”, replied Amber. Violet gasped “huuh, your my long lost sister. You ran away when I was only two.” Amber and Violet, the sisters, gave a great big hug to each other.

Coco asked “is this the crystal cave?” “Oh, oh yes, it is. I’m pleased you asked”. They all stepped down the crystal steps and went inside. There were clear dimonds, pink crystals, emeralds and amethests that sparkled in the shimmering moonlight, and red rubies. When they were back at toadstool bunny village, Coco was so pleased and egsausted from the adventure. Amber and Violet were so happy to be together. The end.

616 words.